Universal Sorrow at Birmingham.

Birmingham, Ala., Dec. 24.—The news of Henry W. Grady's death has caused universal sorrow in Birmingham. The local Press Club vesterday afternoon adopted resolutions declaring pending which time Mr. West was left him to have been the brightest ornament of Southern journalism, and an inspiration to his countrymen.

In the course of his response to a toast at the annual dinner of the New England Society at Delmonico's, in New York, yesterday, referring to the death of Mr. Henry W. Grady, Chauncey M. Denew said:

widow and two children. With perhaps a single exception Henry Woodfen Grady was the best-known editor in all the Southern States. He stood in the front rank of American journalists, and the prospects of none were brighter. His father was a Colonel in the Confederate army and lost his life in battle when his son was only fourteen years old. Young Grady was educated at the University of Georgia, in his native city, where he graduated at the head of his class, and his studies were afterwards continued at the University of Virginia. From the first, Mr. Grady was strongly attached to journalism, and on leaving college, a lad of nineteen, he started a daily paper on his own account at Rome, Ga., which failed of support. He moved to Atdeath was given to the country a few | lanta and issued the Atlanta Herald and afterwards the Atlanta Courier, both of which ventures proved unsuccessful. His ready pea, however, found plenty of employment. He wrote for the Atlanta Constitution, the over the union. They are their own Louisville Courier-Journal, and other papers; and James Gordon Bennett the elder appointed him Georgia correspondent of the New York Herald, a post which he held for six years. A fortunate speculation, it is said, in railroad stock yielded him $20, 000, which he very wisely invested in a quarter interest in the Atlanta Constitution. This interest, now enormously enhanced, he sured that everywhere throughout the land still owned when he died. In the December following the Charleston catastrophe Mr affliction and deplore the loss the nation has Grady delivered an address in New York at the annual dinner of the New England Sqciety on the "New South." That speech was, and still is, applauded all over the country, South as well as North, and helped to make its author famous in remote localities where his name had not hitherto been known. Mr. Grady's last public appearance was at the recent dinner of the Boston Merchants' Club where he and Ex-President Mrs. Grady my deepest sympathy in the loss | Cleveland were conspicuous figures. THE CANTEEN.

The System of Canteens Established at Military Posts Found to Produce Excelent Results in Improving the Morale

Washington, Dec. 24.—The canteen system established by the War Department at the various military posts is producing excelent results in improving the discipline of the army, lessening punishment for minor offences, reducing drunkenness, and in other ways improving the moral tone of the private soldiers. In February last a general order established "canteens." These canteens consist in a general way of a store in which all goods needed by the soldier can be purchased, and where reading rooms are set apart for their use. In these rooms card-playing, smok- Utah. ing and other harmless amusements can be indulged in, and the profits from the articles are divided among the soldiers. Reports received from various posts bring most gratifying results to the War Department of the operation of the canteen system. The men are more contented than ever before known, and having a "home" in the canteen, as it were, loiter less around stores in the post towns. Desertions, too, have perceptibly decreased.

cago Times Stock and Sentenced to Five Years in Prison. CHICAGO, Dec. 24.—James J. West, ex-editor of the Chicago Times, expresident of the Times company and still a claimant in civil suits for a controling interest in its management, was convicted last night of the crime of over-issuing the stock of the company knowingly, designedly and with intent to defraud, and sentenced to pay a fine of $1,000 and to be imprisoned in the penitentiary for the term of five years. Charles E. Graham. West's private secretary and ex-secretary of the company and his alleged confederate and co-defendant, was acquitted.

When the clerk of the court read the jury's verdict West betrayed little emotion. The weight of the crushing blow, however, fell heavily on Frank J. Smith, the only one of his counsel present, whose lips quivered and whose eyes filled with tears. Mr. Smith took a few moments to regain command of his feelings and then entered a motion for a new trial. The hearing of arguments on the motion was set for Thursday and Friday, January 2 and 3, 1890, at liberty on $15,000 bail.

WHOLESALE BUTCHERY.

Throats of His Wife and Three Children and His Own.

Niles, O., Dec. 23.—This community was thunderstruck last evening by the discovery of one of the most wholesale and bloody butcheries that has ever occurred in this section of the State. The victims, five in number, are Charles Shelar, wife and three children, and the crime is supposed to have taken place at an early hour in the morning. When the inhuman deed was discovered at about five o'clock in the afternoon, all five bodies were stiff and cold in death with their throats cut from ear to ear. Shelar and his wife were lying together across the foot of the bed, the three children were on the floor in different parts of the house. Shelar was a mill man, and had steady employment, but of late he drank heavily and it is rumored that he and his wife did not live happily together. The theory advanced is that Shelar in a fit of madness cut the throats of his wife | He Attempts to Arrest the Course of Love and children and then his own. Committed Suicide. London, Dec. 23.-There was a sudden and mysterious sensation in Paris yesterday over a report that the King of Greece had abdicated. Since the sudden change of government in Brazil, Europeans are ready to accept almost any report of revolution and change of dynasty, no matter how unheralded or inexplicable. The old notion that governments that have not been seriously opposed are secure from immediate overthrow received a severe shock when Dom Pedro fell. The report in regard to Greece, however, proved unfounded. Hardly had it been disproved before another sensation was caused by a rumor mitted suicide. This also proved to be a canard. Further Particulars. SAVANNAH, Ga., Dec. 27 .- When the jail at Jessup was attacked early yesterday morning the military were about half a mile distant. By the time the detachment of the troops reached the jail, the mob had dispersed, leaving the dead bodies of the negroes Jackson and Hopps in their cells. The commander of the military had suggested to the mayor that soldiers guard the jail, but the mayor said the sheriff could protect the prisoners. The Georgia Hussars returned here yesterday. The Brunswick company remains on duty by the request of the mayor. The Hussars say the trouble is over. They say hundreds of colored people were taken into the houses of leading white citizens and protected from danger.

A Jessup dispatch to the Morning News, dated 6 p. m., says Mayor Hobbs has called a public meeting to take steps to defend the town to-night. It is believed that the negro desperado Brewer and a large force of negroes are near the town ready for a night attack. Citizens are arming to aid the Brunswick Rifles if necessary. A special train was run out to the brick-vards, where Brewer was reported to be, and a detachment of armed men was sent out as scouts. Mayor Hobbs had received word from Brunswick that Rvan, the white man accused of instigating the trouble, was in Brunswick, but the mayor will not take steps to have Ryan brought back.

There is still great excitement in the country around Jessup, but affairs will probably quiet down soon. It is the region of turpentine distilleries and sawmills and the Jessup trouble is likely to disorganize labor for some time to come.
